DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. Examiner has received and reviewed the Larson document of IDS 3/17/2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The rejection of claims 33, 35, and 37 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claims 32-38, 40-41, 43, and 45-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Packaging Digest article (supplied by Applicant) in view of Leonard (2002/0132049).

Examiner maintains the rejection of the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 3/28/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the rejection based on the Packaging Digest article be withdrawn because the instant case is a continuation in part of 6,656,401, which discloses dual coating of two webs using two windup stands without ever joining the webs together.

Examiner disagrees.

As a first matter, Rexam researched suppliers for their new extrusion laminating line in 2000. As further clarified in the Larson document, page 3, installation of Rexam/Amtcor's new line began May 30th, 2001 and was completed within five weeks, which would have been before the filing date of the parent of this case.

Additionally, Examiner notes that the parent case is primarily directed towards coating two adjoined webs at the same time. Applicant points to the quote that states "webs... may be extrusion coated separately and then joined prior to being wound up together. Alternatively, the webs may be wound up separately without ever being joined together using dual windup stands."

Examiner notes that this teaching does not require that webs be conveyed independently.

Also, even if separate extrusion is occurring, it is not clear that it is completely "independent". For example, this teaching allows for separate, tandem extrusion in which webs are run separately through the same extruder. This would not yield a coating step occurring during the same "portion of time". Also, the "alternatively" language is not clear and precise enough to provide basis for the instant claims. This language allows for co-extrusion in which they are not "joined" per se, but still coated together, but then wound up separately. Furthermore, this parent case discloses that most extrusion machines only have one windup stand therefore, a composite roll is often wound together and only then rewound on dual windup stands (col. 6, lines 47-58).

Art Unit: 1762

However, the claim requires far more than that which is disclosed by the parent case.

The instant claim requires separate conveying, separate coating, and separate wind-up stands "wherein the conveying and coating steps in regard to the first web are carried out independently of the conveying and coating steps in regard to the second web and during at least a portion of the time in which the conveying and coating steps are being carried out in regard to the second web."

In light of the above, the teaching of col. 5, lines 9-12 of the parent case do not provide adequate support for all of the limitations of this continuation in part.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

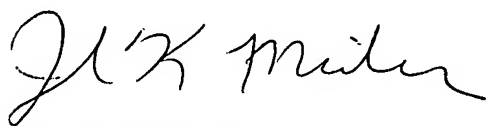

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
